

Greg Colbeck has served as the Director of Operations for RAHAB Ministries since April of 2014. RAHAB Ministries reaches hundreds of women and children every month, most of whom are victims of sexual exploitation. Since 2002, RAHAB has provided everything from a hot meal and some new clothes to a fully-funded, trauma-informed safe-housing program with the goal of providing healing for victims of sex trafficking. At RAHAB, some of Greg's responsibilities include overseeing day-to-day operations, managing staff in the various areas of ministry, developing and instituting programming, and coordinating with Becky Moreland (Executive Director) to continue to fulfill her vision for the ministry. Greg and his wife Amanda have two daughters named Stella and Violet.
